

EDITORS' NOTE

We are pleased to introduce our new special section which we expect will be used for diverse and worthwhile purposes. For this issue, Don Bradley III, SBIDA National Center Director, was invited to submit his article dealing with the activities and services of the National Center. In addition, the section contains the second and third place papers selected by the SBIDA 1992 National Conference reviewers. Finally, we have chosen to begin a "Letters to the Editors" section with an interesting exchange involving a new subscriber in Eastern Europe.

In addition to the submission of articles intended for the regular review process, we would appreciate hearing from you with your commentary on articles already published or anything of general interest to our readership. We hope to print a selection of such correspondence and materials in future special sections. Please remember when submitting an essay to JSBS for review that SBIDA intends this to be a practically-oriented journal.
